BEDS 5 BATHS 6.5 SIZE 7,100 sq ft

Description

Located on a quintessential cobbled Soho street in The New Museum Building, a fine pre-war loft landmark, this extraordinarily voluminous home offers roughly 7,000sf of duplexed space in a discreet full service building with entrances both off Mercer and Broadway.

The elevator opens directly into the apartment foyer on the upper level. Immediately you are presented with the impressively scaled living space that spans the full width of the building (almost 50 feet) with superb Eastern light that streams through 6 enormous arched windows.

A wood-burning fireplace invites relaxation and intimate conversation and separates the living area from the vast dining room, perfect for formal and casual dining. A massive open kitchen adjoins with custom crafted wood cabinetry with stone countertops and A-grade appliances, perfect for catering to a meal for two or a gathering of 100.
